New Black Finish for the Combi-Cam Ultra Combination Locker Lock Offers Master Key Override & Code Retrievable Function

Seattle, WA, 6/28/12: New black finish now available for the Combi-Cam Ultra. The Combi-Cam Ultra by FJM Security Products is the first combination locker lock with master key override and code retrievable capabilities. The Combi-Cam Ultra, offering master key override and code retrieval, is now available in both black and chrome finishes.

The Combi-Cam Ultra has 10,000 possible combinations available and master key access, allowing for dual access with both keys and combinations. The innovative combination locker lock design offers combination capabilities with innovative code retrieval function. Combi-Cam Ultra, made of heavy duty die cast metal, offers higher security, pick resistant keyways. The combination locker lock can be installed vertically and horizontally and is ideal for locker applications, cabinets, drawers, storage, etc - anywhere that needs the flexibility of combination retrieval or multiple person access.

- easy-to-use knob with distinct, user-friendly open and close indicators, and no housing to rotate which can deface surface
- master key allows users to override the current combination, and retrieve the current combination
- fits a maximum material thickness of 1-1/8" and retrofits any standard cam lock
- comes in three cylinder lengths (5/8", 7/8", and 1-1/8"), and two finishes (chrome and black)
